The truth is that the people of this county remember that Frank Riddle murdered a poor old peddler, for his money, in a most cowardly, brutal manner, and few can control the market, and that however well he may have behaved himself since then, his society is not desired in this community. The penitentiary is the place for such as he, and taking him as a sample, the com a mities of the State will fare better if the Governor will leave this pestiferous gang where they are, and dispute, is whether the proposed ty," then fell back and peacefully ex- For sale at this office, 50 cents per ty and red.

The framers of the bill say it would materially lessen the cost of running these Courts; the jail fees, witness fees, jurors fees, and other incidentals would all be reduced, and would largely overcome the salary and other expenses incident to the new arrangement. The parties opposing its passage, deny this, and thereby raise a question of fact.

Now that question of fact will be discussed at the Court House next Monday, and it is the duty of all the people to go there and hear the data, the proof, the facts in the case.

Until then the HERALD does not propose to take sides, and we advise our readers to a like prudence. Don't sign any petition for anybody, until you learn the facts of the case. For you should not attempt to ins ruct your representatives about something you hav'nt investigated.

How it may affect a few individuals, is of little consequence to the people at large; laws are made for the greatest good to the greatest number, and we suppose the gentlemen who may have their incomes reduced by this measure, would be willing to admit this, and admit the justice of it. The question is, not how will it affect the few, but how will it affect the many.

So let every body come to the Court House next Monday, and when you have heard the question discussed, then sign the petition you think
